Fusion 7, Vlatko Ceric

Real Doll-Emma, Jennifer Bush

The exhibition reveals a diorama of thought and judgement. The conceptual underpinning to the works challenges us to pause. The incongruous and the banal are revealed through subversion, dissection and reconstruction. Per Johansson's interplay of light bursting forth from the hidden depths of darkness provide a metaphysical luminosity. The works of Hana Dzierzengova and Jane Bolden have a visceral approach to the pictorial plane whereas the fleshy turmoil of Liviu Mihais' paintings resonate with tableaux that weave tails of life and death, and pull in the political, the tragic and the celebratory. Jennifer Kidd's installation contemplates our present malaise of time-wasting and watching others while Jennifer Bush parodies objectification alongside Yole Quinteros' Beauty Queens who take a critical look at oppression. With foxes and magpies circling we know nature is upon us, Anna Tsutsui entraps her nests, abandoned and preserved, suspended remnants in dialogue with Asia Fuse's homage to the rat in her sculptural blocks. These are only a few of the works on show that aim to challenge notions of the solitary and provide a palette of the global.

About us

Established by artists, TIAF London 2014 is an annual addition to the art fair calendar. We aim to provide a platform that puts artists rather than the market at the forefront, with a quality over quantity ethos we seek out fantastic spaces on the periphery of more expensive venues in order to reduce costs to artists thereby removing either the financial restrictions or gallery exclusivity that prevent much exciting, contemporary work to be seen in major commercial fairs.
